Her parents gave her whatever she asked for whenever she asked for it

For her 8th birthday Penelope nicely requested a unicorn threatening to start world war 5 if she didnt get one

I took this baby horse from his mom :)

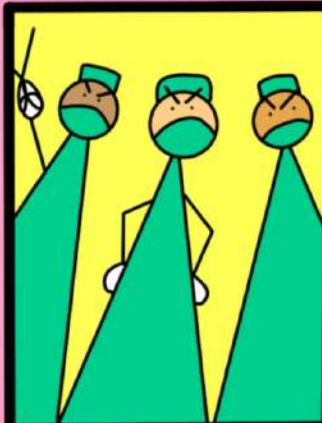

Traumatized by the past 2 world wars Penelope started the entire town went searching for a unicon

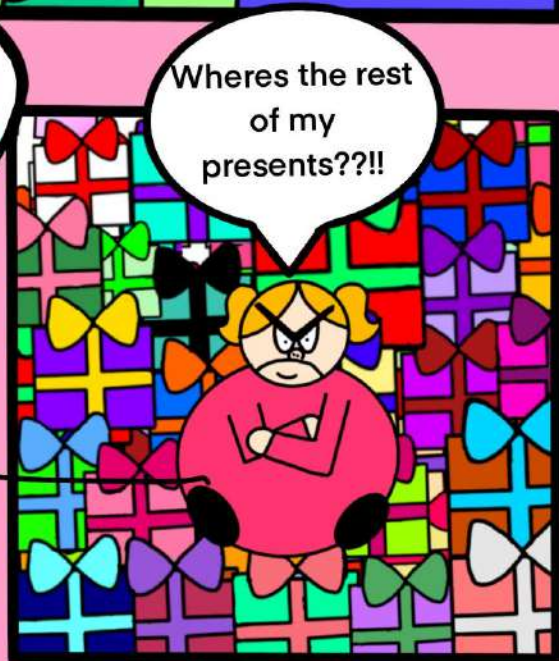

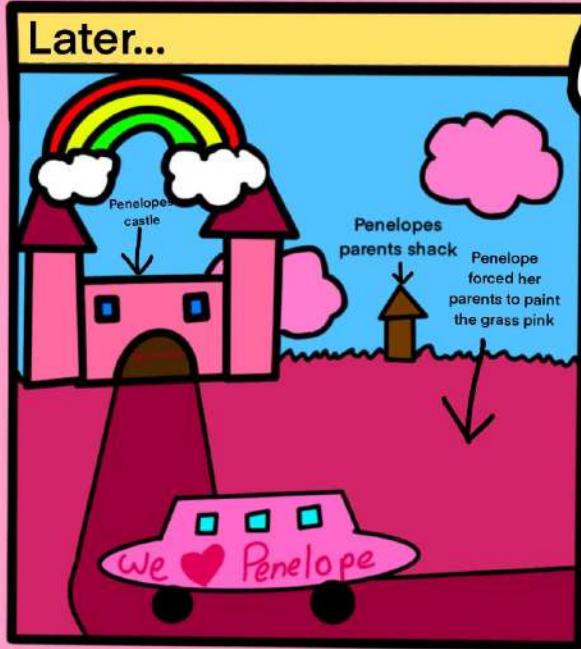

Realizing unicorns dont exist penelopes parents resorted to other measures

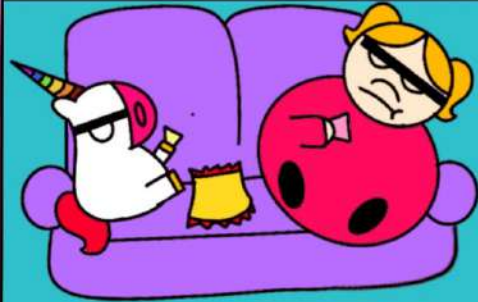

I can give the horse unioplasty for a humble fee of 500,000 dollars and we charge an extra 100,150 dollars for glitter

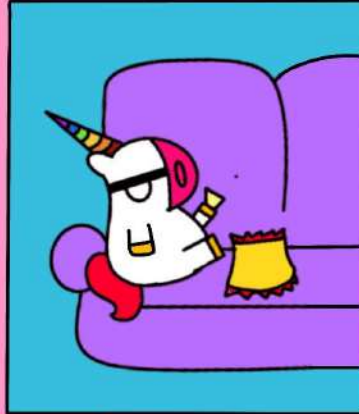

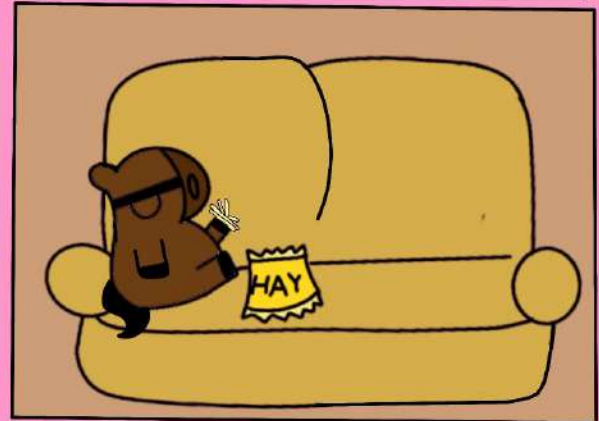

Living with Penelope was not as bad as Porky had thought. They had a lot in common

All he did was eat and watch tv

Which is exactly what he did when he lived on the farm

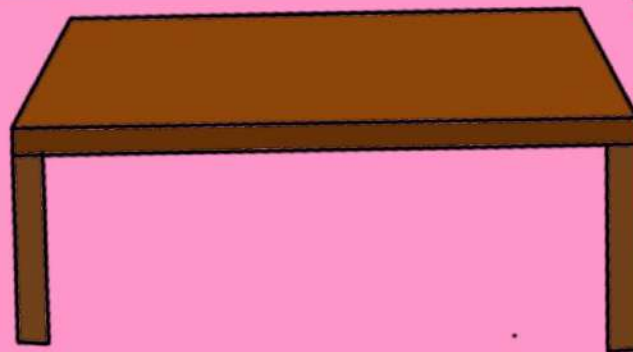

Penelope and Porky had started doing everything together

They would even play a game called Candy Land

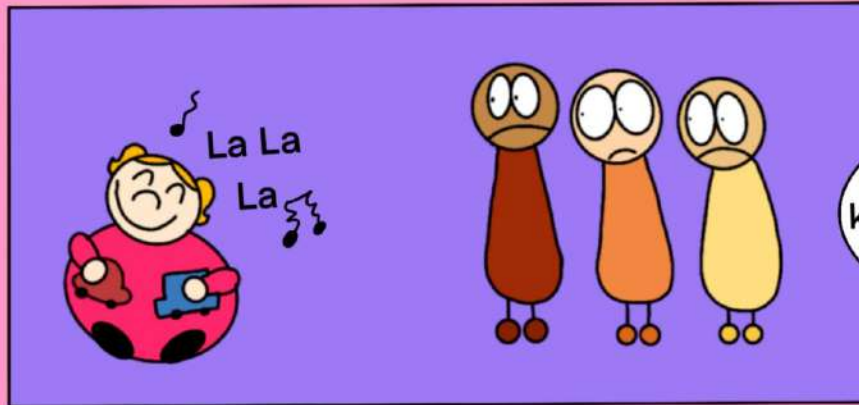

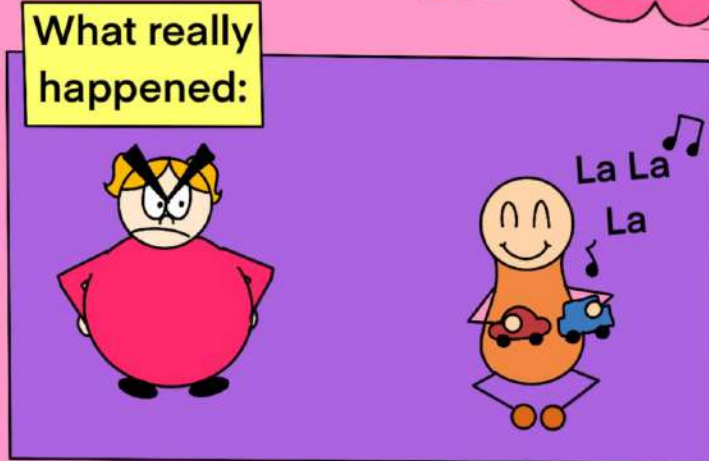

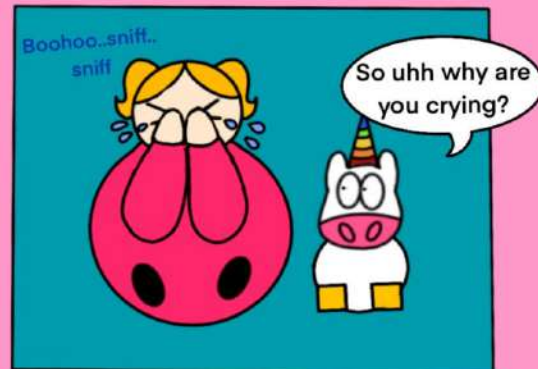

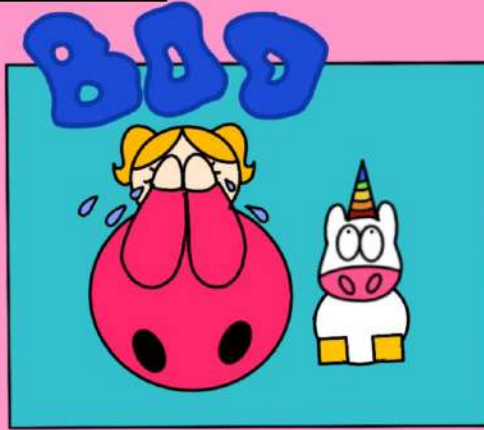

Where they would try to see who could eat the most candy in a minute

Penelope always won

Penelope even started telling
Porky about her school drama

And so Penelope and Porky became best friends
